The creation of a new online store, which combines B2B and B2C, is a challenge for any company. After much consideration and researching various options, we decided to trust Stenik, and now that the website is live, I can share the following: Professional and personalized attitude from clarifying the task, presenting the offer, work plan, assistance with all current issues, training, and up to the completion of the project, and afterward, technical support and help. This is what we saw in working with Stenik - high competence, good organization, and a wonderful team. We wish them to maintain this level and continue to grow!
